Dear General Heinz:

On 26 January 1988, the Strategic Defense Intelligence Advisory Committee (SDIAC) was convened at the Pentagon. At that meeting, four subjects were addressed: Intelligence Community Support to the Strategic Defense Initiative Organization (SDIO); Collection Support to the SDIO; Strategic Defense System Attack Scenarios and Threat Development; and the CIA study on Soviet SDI Response Options. For the next SDIAC, we intend to update the group on the Delta 181 experiment, as well as to address other collection issues. In addition, we plan to discuss Soviet SDI-related resource constraints and counterintelligence issues; and to provide an update on the SDI System Threat Assessment Report. A tentative agenda is enclosed. If you have an item you believe needs inclusion, please forward it to my point of contact, [redacted] DE-TAO-2, 373-4168. The next SDIAC is scheduled for Tuesday, 10 May 1988, from 1400 to 1600 hours, in room 1A666, Pentagon. I look forward to your participation.
